

PREPARING AND DELIVERING YOUR GECCO 2004 PROCEEDINGS PAPER

Final deadline for delivering your paper and all materials to Professional Book Center is Wednesday, March 24, 2004

This is an absolute deadline for receipt of a PDF or PostScript file AND all source files for your paper via FTP and the accompanying forms via FAX. Papers must be delivered to Professional Book Center, not to AAAI, conference organizers, or the publisher. Please deliver only the final version of your paper. Final materials will go to manufacturing promptly, so late or replacement papers cannot be accepted. If you have questions regarding deadlines or delivery of your paper, please contact Jennifer Ballentine at Professional Book Center: 303-756-5222; email: jennifer@probook.net. We are in the U.S. Mountain Time Zone—two hours earlier by the clock than New York, one hour later than California. Due to the number of papers, we cannot individually confirm receipt of your materials. Please do not contact us to ask about the status of your paper. We will email you if materials are not received, have problems, or are incomplete.

Note on formatting and all-electronic delivery

For your final paper, you should use the same formatting instructions you used for the preliminary submission. Start at <http://www.springer.de/comp/lncs/authors.html>. You will be redirected to a page titled “LNCS Author and Volume Editor Instructions.” Select the heading “Information for LNCS Authors.” Please follow the “Default Author Instructions” from this page. These instructions also serve as a sample formatted paper. Also from this page, you may access instructions and download macros or templates as needed. Be sure to use the “Proceedings and Other Multiauthor Volumes” choices.

Do not use the copyright form from this Web page (see below). If you need technical assistance with LaTeX formatting, please contact Springer-Verlag (personnel and contact addresses can be found in the Default Author Instructions).

Note: papers not properly formatted according to the instructions will not be published in the proceedings.

Important: Professional Book Center is filling the role of “volume editor” for the purpose of these instructions. Note that these instructions indicate you should physically send a hardcopy of your paper along with your files. THIS IS NOT THE CASE. WE DO NOT NEED A HARDCOPY OF YOUR PAPER. Because of this, all figures must be provided electronically—in place in your files and not provided separately. We do need a PDF or PostScript file AND all source files for your paper as outlined in the Springer instructions and the step-by-step instructions below. We also need our special version of the Springer-Verlag Copyright Form, and your Extra Page Fee Form, if applicable. Both are included with these instructions. (See checklist at the end of this document.)

Special version of the Springer-Verlag Copyright Form

Please print-out, complete, and sign our special version of the Springer Copyright Form, which is provided with these materials, and FAX it to Professional Book Center (+1 305 946 8106) by March 24. For multi-author papers, a single signature by the lead author is sufficient. Papers not accompanied by this form cannot be published in the proceedings. Please read the form carefully before signing.

Length requirements and Extra Page Fee Form

Twelve (12) pages have been allocated for your paper. If it is a non-poster paper, you may include up to two (2) additional pages with payment of a $150.00 (U.S. dollars) fee for each additional page. In this case, you must complete and FAX the Extra Page Fee Invoice Form along with the Copyright Form. Poster papers are allowed two (2) pages and may not be extended. Papers that exceed length requirements without payment of the appropriate fees cannot be published.

Step-by-Step Instructions

1. Prepare your paper in the Springer-Verlag format

The Proceedings will be published by Springer-Verlag in their Lecture Notes in Computer Science series. This is the same format you should have used for your preliminary GECCO 2004 submission. You are strongly encouraged to use LaTeX_{2 ϵ} to prepare your paper, however an MS-Word template is also available. All suggested macros and templates are available on the Springer-Verlag Web site; see Note on formatting and all-electronic delivery above.

2. Once your paper is finalized, make a single Adobe Acrobat PDF or PostScript file for the entire paper

Name your file using the paper ID number assigned by AAAI to your paper, followed by a period (.) and the extension for your file type (pdf for Acrobat, ps for PostScript). An example would be 999.pdf. Be sure to embed all fonts you use in the PDF or PostScript file, especially any math or special symbol fonts. If you make a PostScript file and then use Acrobat Distiller to make a PDF file, we recommend you use the press option of Distiller. Please print a hardcopy of the file you will deliver and carefully check it. Professional Book Center cannot be responsible for errors in your formatting or file preparation. Do not compress or zip your PDF or PostScript file in any way.

3. You MUST provide your LaTeX or other source files along with a PDF or PostScript file

Springer-Verlag must have your source files for their post-conference publishing program. When your paper is finalized, and you have made a PDF or PostScript file, assemble all your source files, including TEX files for the text, PS or EPS files for figures, and final DVI files for papers prepared with LaTeX or TEX. If you prepared your paper using software other than TEX, please provide your source files AND RTF (Rich Text Format) files. Make sure the text is identical in all cases. Once you have assembled your source files, compress them together into a single new file using zip or tar (or stuf-fit on the Macintosh). Be sure to name your compressed file using the ID number assigned by AAAI to your paper, followed by a period (.) and the extension for your compression file type. An example would be 999.zip.

4. Request FTP instructions and password no later than Friday, March 19, 2004

All conference access to FTP space will be password-protected. Before March 19, 2004, you must email lee@probook.net to obtain the FTP address and password you will use to deliver your file. Use "GECCO FTP REQUEST" as the subject of your message and include, in the body of the message, your name, institution, paper title, and paper ID number. We will reply within about 24 hours.

5. FTP your PDF or PostScript file AND your compressed source files no later than March 24, 2004

If you do not have FTP client software, the program 'ws-ftp' should be available at www.tucows.com. Because transient conditions, such as network downtime, can delay transmission, we highly recommend you deliver your file 48 to 72 hours in advance of the deadline. If you have a problem, this will allow us time to consult with you by email on how to proceed. Do not email your files to us.

6. Confirm your paper delivery by email

After you've uploaded your files, send email to lee@probook.net with "GECCO PAPER DELIVERY" on the subject line. Include the names of the files that you uploaded to us, the compression method you used for the source files, the paper ID number, the names of the paper's authors, the exact paper title, and the number of pages in the paper. Let us know in this message how your name and those of your coauthors should be alphabetized in the proceedings and listed in the author index. Some names are straightforward (Smith, Jim); others are not (van Dyke, Jim: alphabetized under "V" or "D"? Epstein Barr, Sheila—or Barr, Sheila Epstein?). No particular order or format for this information is necessary.

7. Print out, complete, sign, and FAX your completed forms

FAX (to +1 305 946 8106) your completed Copyright Form and Extra Page Fee Form by the March 24 deadline.
